
Driving Directions

From Denver International Airport:

Peña Boulevard merges into Interstate 70 west. Take Interstate 70 west 85 miles to Frisco (Exit 203). Then take Highway 9 south 11 miles to Breckenridge.

From Eagle - Vail Airport:

Take Interstate 70 64 miles east to Frisco (Exit 203). Then take Highway 9 south 11 miles to Breckenridge.

From Colorado Springs Airport:

Take Highway 24 west 55 miles to Hartsel. At Hartsel, take Highway 9 north approximately 40 miles to Breckenridge.

Transportation

Getting Here

Take advantage of the savings offered by our negotiated wholesale rates with major national and regional airlines, airport shuttle, car rental, and bus charter vendors. We are happy to work with your in-house agent to secure the best value - we even offer commissionable rates to those who qualify.

Air Travel

Denver International Airport (DEN) provides easy and central access to Colorado from almost anywhere in the United States, with service available on major carriers and excellent regional airlines. Denver is a convenient airport with many direct, non-stop flights, minimizing total travel time to Breckenridge. Several national carriers also fly into Eagle-Vail Airport (EGE), particularly in the winter, with service from over a dozen major cities.

Ground Transportation

Breckenridge is an easy and scenic highway drive or ride through the Colorado Rocky Mountains, approximately 95 minutes from Denver International Airport (DEN), 75 minutes from Eagle-Vail Airport (EGE) and 2 hours, 40 minutes from Colorado Springs Airport (COS).

866-677-4756
brecklodginggroups@vailresorts.com
WWW.BRECKENRIDGEHOSPITALITY.COM